Experience world-class academics

You're about to embark on a transformative journey at Arizona State University that will shape your future.

You'll be part of an academically excellent community where your ideas drive your college experience.

Through academic instruction led by some of the world's top professors, you'll master the art of learning while being part of the university's most significant and meaningful endeavors.

Ultimately, you'll graduate with the tools and mindset you need to make your life one amazing story.

Old Main was constructed long before Arizona became a state. Later, it was the site of a speech by U.S. President Theodore Roosevelt, who said, "It is of the utmost consequence in any community ... to provide the best educational facilities for the next generation." More than a century later, Old Main affirms that our commitment to the future lies deep in ASU history.

Study with some of the world's most brilliant minds

ASU students learn alongside professors and researchers across the university as they explore innovative ideas and make groundbreaking discoveries. These game-changers and academic mentors include Nobel laureates and other leaders in their fields, providing you access to some of the brightest minds in academia.

ASU's faculty includes:

- Nobel laureates
- Pulitzer Prize winners
- Guggenheim Fellows
- American Academy of Arts and Sciences members
- National Academy of Sciences members
- National Academy of Engineering members
- MacArthur Fellows
- Fulbright U.S. Scholars
- National Endowment for the Humanities Fellows

ASU Professor Lindy Elkins-Tanton, who is leading a NASA deep-space mission, is also guiding her students to discover they have the ability and support to reach their potential.

With the mentorship and encouragement of Professor Elkins-Tanton, ASU student Jessica M. landed an internship at NASA, where she is now working on a Mars rover.

Recent ASU graduates have earned the following:

Fulbright Scholarship
Rhodes Scholarship
Churchill Scholarship
Gates Cambridge Scholarship
Goldwater Scholarship
Marshall Scholarship

Creating water out of thin air

ASU engineering professor Cody Friesen received the prestigious Lemelson-MIT Prize for his invention of solar panels that generate drinking water from sunlight and air. Shown here visiting a site installation in Dubai with his Zero Mass Water team, the idea is benefiting communities, refugee camps and hospitals around the world.

Breaking the world record for solar cell efficiency

Assistant Professor Zachary Holman and Assistant Research Professor Zhengshan “Jason” Yu set a new world record for solar cell efficiency, a breakthrough with the potential to lower the cost of solar energy.

Discovering the birth of stars

ASU Professor Judd Bowman and his research team’s discovery about the birth of stars is recognized as a “breakthrough of the year” in a prestigious physics magazine.

Priming the ocean’s carbon pump

Biodesign Institute oceanographer Susanne Neuer is researching the microscopic organisms that drive the ocean’s absorption of carbon dioxide out of the atmosphere.

Shrinking tumors with nanobots

An ASU professor and one of Fast Company’s “Most Creative People in Business,” Hao Yan, and his team have successfully programmed nanorobots to shrink tumors by cutting off their blood supply.

Learn to think creatively

Solving challenges in the world — or in your day-to-day life — calls for creative solutions to complex problems. Taking a class or majoring in programs such as art, design, digital culture, music, dance, film or theatre can help you hone your creative-thinking and problem-solving skills so you're better prepared for taking on challenges, big and small.

Connect with the people who are changing the world

Extraordinary entrepreneurs. Renowned professionals. National heroes. Distinguished thought leaders. These are the types of people ASU collaborates with, either through partnerships that benefit students or by offering opportunities for students to meet with, ask questions of and learn from them. Here are some notable names who have visited ASU and shared their knowledge.

While he was president, Barack Obama addressed new graduates at an ASU commencement and inspired a new ASU scholarship.

First female U.S. Supreme Court Justice Sandra Day O'Connor inspired ASU to name its law school after her.

The late senator John McCain and Cindy McCain partnered with ASU to form an institute to promote character-driven leadership.

Former Secretary of State Condoleezza Rice held a discussion with students about being involved at the highest level of international affairs.

Hong Kong dignitary and social justice leader Anson Chan interacted with students on the topics of international politics and democracy.

Former President Bill Clinton and former Secretary of State Hillary Rodham Clinton hosted the Clinton Global Initiative University at ASU, celebrating student-led changemaking.

Students learned about cybersecurity and privacy at a forum with former U.S. Secretary of Homeland Security Michael Chertoff.

Former South Africa President F.W. de Klerk met with students about solving important social, economic and political problems through civil discussion.

Former Intel CEO Craig Barrett and Secretary of the U.S. Air Force Barbara Barrett have created opportunities for students to interact with international leaders in Arizona and at the ASU D.C. center.

Prince Alfred Mbingo of Cameroon's Nso Kingdom worked with students on solutions to migration and human trafficking.

Industry leaders

Former White House physician and Mayo Clinic doctor Connie Mariano spoke about overcoming obstacles to achieve success.

Microsoft founder Bill Gates was a guest lecturer at a forum on expanding higher education access.

Students heard from former Google CEO Eric Schmidt about the power of science, technology and hard work.

MasterCard Foundation CEO Reeta Roy shared her journey to a successful career with MasterCard Foundation Scholars from Africa.

Former Starbucks CEO Howard Schultz participated in an ASU town hall event on how business can be a partner in expanding education opportunities.

Student athletes met with Jack Ma, co-founder of Alibaba, one of the most successful businesses in the world, to learn about managing a global business.

Join your academic home

From engineering to journalism, business to sustainability, nursing to education and beyond, ASU offers 16 colleges and schools that you can choose from to be your academic home. Each school offers specialized programming and advising, research opportunities, and an outstanding academic experience designed to prepare you for the next step in your life. And if you're not sure what you want to study, we have programs to help you figure it out.

Customize your college journey

Your experience at ASU will be unlike anyone else's. You'll have access to opportunities and tools to design your college journey to your exact specifications. From where you live to what you study to what you do during your downtime, you'll be in charge of it all.

ASU treats students as design partners, giving them the tools to contribute to and even lead some of ASU's most important discoveries and projects. A prime example is the Student Pavilion — students helped design the building and now manage and operate it. The Student Pavilion embodies the idea that students are central to the strength and success of ASU.

Student organizations headquartered at the Student Pavilion:

- American Indian Council
- Asian/Asian Pacific American Student Coalition
- Black African Coalition

Learn your way

At ASU, you can customize how you learn, what you learn and the speed at which you learn. See all the ways you can make your academic experience uniquely your own.

Hundreds of degree choices

Whatever you love or want to explore, you can do it at ASU. With more than 350 degree programs to choose from, you'll find one that inspires you.

Dual majors

You can earn two concurrent degrees in the same time it takes to earn one, expanding your knowledge and career options.

Accelerated bachelor's degrees

You can opt to fast-track your studies by choosing either a 2.5- or a 3-year path after admission into an accelerated program.

Earn your bachelor's and master's together

Depending on your program, you can earn your bachelor's and master's degrees one year earlier by working toward both at the same time with a 3+1 or 4+1 program.

Minors and certificates

By adding a minor or certificate, you'll become more well-rounded and boost your resume by taking classes outside your major.

Semester lengths

Choose a traditional 15-week semester or a more concentrated 7.5-week semester. Either way, the course content and credit you earn is the same.

Technology-enhanced learning

Active learning. Listen to class lectures online, then go to class to work on problem-solving in small groups.

Adaptive learning. An interactive style of learning that adjusts to your skill level in real time.

Online learning. Pursue your degree from anywhere as a full-time online student, or add an online course to your schedule in addition to your on-campus classes.

Mentorship

You can find mentors through ASU's mentor network, or sometimes by working closely with a professor on a research project or hanging out in their office during faculty office hours.

Tutoring

ASU offers free tutoring and writing help so you can catch up or get ahead in your classes.

Academic advising

Your academic advisor helps ensure you're taking the right classes and are on the most efficient path to graduation.

eAdvisor™

Monitor your progress toward your degree with this online tool. You can see what classes you need to take and which semester to take them, and receive an alert if you fall off track.

Faculty office hours

All professors hold weekly office hours. This is your chance to talk to them about a concept you're struggling with in class, or to have a chat and build your network.

First-year success coaching

Get support in your transition to college life by connecting with a peer mentor who can offer tips and advice as you settle in to your first year.

ASU mobile app

Access your grades, schedule and financial aid information, and find ASU events, maps, library resources and more, all on your phone.

Health and wellness

ASU offers wellness resources such as the Sun Devil Fitness Complex, a huge gym with all the latest equipment. You'll also have access to comprehensive health care — including primary care, immunizations, lab services, acupuncture and women's health — and specialized LGBTQIA programs and initiatives.

Counseling services

To support your emotional well-being, ASU offers professional counseling services as well as confidential 24-hour support.

Family support

Your family is part of your college journey, too. ASU offers resources and information to keep them connected to the ASU community.

Immerse yourself in a community that lets you be you

Life in an ASU residence hall isn't dorm life, it's community life. You'll live on the same floor as other students in your academic program in a residential college, and immediately be part of a welcoming community committed to inclusion.

Residence halls include:

- A comfortable, completely furnished room.
- Utilities, cable and Wi-Fi.
- Full community kitchen.
- Group recreation space.
- Quiet study areas.
- Washers and dryers.

Why live on campus?

Living on campus means you're right next to everything — classes, professors, libraries, tutoring centers, dining halls, the fitness complex. You'll have access to a 24/7 community of support and feel more connected to university resources.

Eating well on campus

No matter what kind of food you're looking for — vegetarian, vegan, comfort food — you can find it at ASU. Dining halls offer delicious entrees, several meal plan options, convenient hours, access to nutritionists, and lots of space to hang out with friends or get some studying done while you eat.

Find the ASU that fits you

Where you learn can be as important as what you learn. ASU offers four campuses in the metro Phoenix area, each with its own size and feel, so you're sure to find the one that fits you best. And no matter which campus you choose, you'll be earning the same ASU degree.

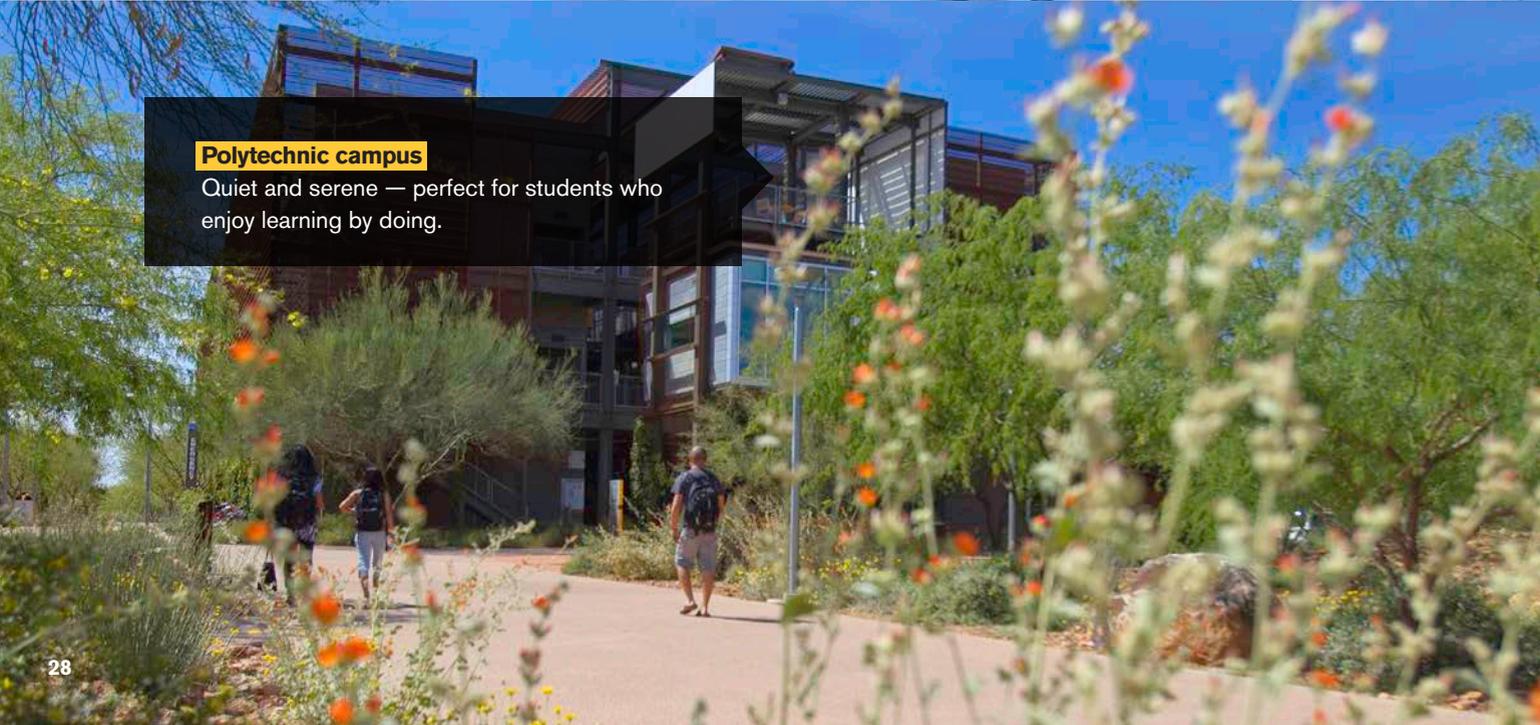

Take the campus fit quiz to find out which campus might be your style.

Make yourself proud by making your mark

Right now, it might be difficult to picture yourself walking across the stage and receiving your college diploma. We want you to remember that no matter who you are or where you're from, you won't go it alone at ASU. The university community is committed to supporting you every step of the way during your college years. This is why the ASU charter states that we measure ourselves by whom we include and how they succeed.

Turn your interests into your career

The things that interest you throughout your life often signal the types of careers you'll excel at and enjoy. ASU can help you explore your interests more deeply and guide you on a path to realizing how the things that give you joy can be turned into meaningful careers.

The loss of her father from a misdiagnosis when she was a child inspired Charity B. to come to ASU from Zimbabwe to study molecular biology and biotechnology. ## Live a fulfilling life

The things you'll learn, the community you'll build and the opportunities you'll explore at ASU will set you up for success not only in your career but in your life. Our goal is to prepare you to thrive in all aspects of your life, from your health to job satisfaction to community ties.

Happy. Successful. Fulfilled. Living the life they desire — that's what we want for each member of our student and alumni family.

Isaac E. came to ASU shy and not knowing what he was going to study. But he fell in love with his college and made lots of friends. When Isaac graduated, he realized ASU gave him more than an education. “ASU really gave me confidence that I can do anything.” Isaac earned his degree in broadcast journalism and now works for the Phoenix Suns and Phoenix Mercury as a content producer.

Jesse S. is a recreational fisherman with a PhD in biology from ASU. Now, as an assistant professor in the College of Global Futures, he's changing the future of commercial fishing across the globe. Jesse and his students have developed an affordable solar-powered net that effectively saves protected sea life without compromising the profitability of fishing for communities that depend on the industry.

Ranna A. credits ASU with helping her learn how to explore interests outside of her comfort zone and in pursuit of a fulfilling life. After earning her degree in molecular biosciences and biotechnology, she started her career as a pharmacist and recently joined a startup fighting the opioid epidemic, an issue she is passionate about combatting. Ranna finds balance by also pursuing the things that bring her joy, including yoga, healthy eating, and quality time spent with family and friends.

When we say our students are co-creators in their education journey at ASU, we mean it. Every student photo in this book depicts actual ASU students or alumni participating in real ASU experiences. It's our goal to always tell a genuine, student-focused story about our university. We're proud of and grateful for the many students who shared their unique stories in this book, including:
